Soldiers Hear Ex-President Taft.

Ex-President Wm. H. Taft gave the boys of Camp Colt a stirring talk Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Centre Square. The Soldiers marched to the Square led by the Gettysburg Band. Shortly after their arrival ex-President Taft, Dr. W. A. Granville, Senator Beales, Hon. Wm. C. Spruill, Major Graham came to the Square in automobiles. The speaking was from the automobile. Dr. Wm. A. Granville introduced Mr. Taft, who made a patriotic address that gave the boys great cheer. He told the boys to remember that they were fighting the German people led by the Hohenzollern dynasty and the Potsdam gang. Attention was called to the mistakes the enemy had made because they did not know and understand the people of the countries they made war upon. They did not know that the Englishman had a higher respect for a scrap of paper than they had and this mistake brought the thin line of the English to the Marne and helped to stem the first drive. This mistake had brought to France over 400,000 of Canadian forces and more than that number of Australian troops. They made the mistake in the commission of their outrages against the people of this country and now face the strongest nation in the world in money, in manpower and industrial activities. The young men of this country called to the colors are the bulwark of the principles for which this nation stands and it is their privilege and duty to win the way and carry the nation to Berlin. It is the duty of the nation to give support in money, munition and all the needs of war. The call is made with the ringing encouragement to the soldiers: "Go to it, my boys."

Don. Wm. C. Spruill next addressed the audience and with music by the Band the crowd dispersed, the soldier boys hurrying back to camp.

On last Wednesday evening a "house-warming" was given Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuhns, of Two Taverns. About forty guests were present.

Five War Savings Stamps will buy some soldier a rifle. Don't let him go unequipped.

Cut Out the Jumps!

Have you "the jumps"—or other manifestations of nervousness? Are you easily confused or started at unexpected noises or sounds? Do you worry or fret over trifles? Then look to your nerves. Something is radically wrong with them.

Upset nervous conditions usually result from some exhausted or impaired bodily organ, which does not properly give its allotted service. Go after the offender through that great recuperatory center of the body—our stomach. Ask your druggist for DR. CHARLES TONIC TABLETS. They are the very best of preparations to soothe and smooth the racked and exhausted nerves of nervous prostration victims. Those who are debilitated, those who suffer from the grating burden of liver and kidney trouble, will once more turn to health by using this splendid formula.

The great weakness of women's delicately balanced nervous systems as exemplified in the special pills proffered to their sex—will be quickly relieved by DR. CHARLES TONIC TABLETS, which so promptly give the gift of rich red blood to the anemia. The TONIC will also go far to arrest and vanish dyspepsia and many wasting diseases that lead to consumption.

There are no "jumps" "come backs" to DR. CHARLES TONIC TABLETS—and they will act so marvelously on certain "nervous" where other tonics and restoratives, such as iron, strychnine, arsenic, cod liver oil, etc., often fail. Safe and pleasant to take.

Plump and Pleading

It was at the office of an officer of the State Department, an experienced man, who was working on a communication from the British government, when he was interrupted by a young man who came in with a regular procession of boxes, and holding in his hands a large box, and in one corner carried an enormous cigar-box over his head. The British officer suspected some sort of foul play, of course. The boxes have played so many dirty tricks. But the fellow whipped open the big box and showed it had nothing in it but cigars, and explained as well as he could that it was by way of being a sort of propitiatory offering. He wound up by saying: "This war no good; no good at all, sir. Pleadably and soon, now, sir!"—Montreal Herald.

Commanding Respect.

"Are you going to town in your working clothes, Hiram?" exclaimed Farmer Cornstossel's wife.

"That's what I am. When I walk up High street I don't want to be mistaken for any city chap. I want to look like I had a barrel of potatoes or a load of hay that I might condescend to sell somebody if I took a fancy to him."

Couldn't Take a Hint.

"I'm cold," said the sweet young thing, glancing wistfully at the young man at her side. "I wish I had something around me."

"Really?" replied the slow youth. "I'll get my sister to knit you a sweater. She's very clever at such work."

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Gettysburg Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent urination, sediment or retention. It demands testimony to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles so long. You will make no mistake in getting the Gettysburg citizens'.

H. H. Ridinger, 227 W. Mill St., says: "Kidney trouble in all probability, brought on by heavy lifting, has been a constant worry at the time I am paid to come across the small of my back. At night, it was so painful I frequently had to get up and sit in a chair. My kidneys became weaker and I acted irregularly. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples Drug Store and they gave me good benefit. I always keep Doan's on hand in case of necessity."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ridinger had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Gettysburg Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent urination, sediment or retention. It demands testimony to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles so long. You will make no mistake in getting the Gettysburg citizens'.

H. H. Ridinger, 227 W. Mill St., says: "Kidney trouble in all probability, brought on by heavy lifting, has been a constant worry at the time I am paid to come across the small of my back. At night, it was so painful I frequently had to get up and sit in a chair. My kidneys became weaker and I acted irregularly. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples Drug Store and they gave me good benefit. I always keep Doan's on hand in case of necessity."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ridinger had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SUGAR PROBLEM IS SOLVED: SMALL SACRIFICE REQUIRED

Consumer Assured of Steady Supply of Sugar—
Table Use One-Quarter—

The problem of securing a steady supply of sugar for the United States has been solved. The Food Administration has announced that it has secured a steady supply of sugar for the United States for the next six months. USE A LITTLE LESS MEAT IN YOUR DIET

Reasonable Reduction of Consumption Necessary to Aid in Supplying Our Allies.

While the Englishman has been limited to two pounds per week of any kind of meat, the dweller in the good old Keystone State has been permitted for the last two months to have his head cut off if he felt like it. Now poor old John Bull must pull his head in a little tighter still, for his weekly ration has been cut to less than a pound of such stuff as beef and other "fatted" meats, and a small additional quantity of lamb, veal, poultry, or baked fish.

But John Bull is at war and we are fighting with him, shoulder to shoulder. In the matter of food, we are better off than he; it is our good fortune, not our right, in this world crisis. We would have no real cause to complain if we were compelled to take pot-luck with him. How much less cause, therefore, for any American to quibble or whine when the Food Administration asks him to cut down his consumption of meat a little—just reasonably—to meet the demand for shipment abroad to hungry John, who right now has mighty little of his favorite food and who, as our ally in arms and measure, is entitled to this slight consideration?

Meat once a day is enough for most of us. Smaller portions and less "heavy feeding" would make most men and women healthier, wealthier and happier. In this country right now the supplies of other food than wheat, meat and sugar are greater than ever before in history. Utilize this condition of abundance to aid our Allies and save the world from the domination of the Hun.

FOOD CONTROL RESTRICTIONS

One thing that people are beginning to recognize is that the Food Administration will be just as ready to raise the restrictions upon the consumption of food when conditions warrant as it was vigorous in applying them. The Food Administration is a war agency. It is not an agency for correcting the habits of the American people, or for reforming American economic practices. It is co-operating with the American people to help them to win the war.—AMERICAN GROCER.

Bottles in Kitchens.

The most noticeable feature of the "Great War" will be fought and won in American kitchens. The American woman has in her keeping the destinies of the world and will fight the decisive battle for a free earth. In her own kitchen with no other uniform than the kitchen apron and surrounded by her little ones she will "go over the top" to victory.

Barberry is a Hun—Kill It.

The tall barberry is an enemy of the United States, because it is an enemy of wheat. Wheat rust is spread with the pollen from the barberry flower. Dig out the barberry by the roots before it has time to bloom.

This is one way to fight the Hun.

No wheat to be used in manufacturing for anything but food.

down the consumption of wheat least one-half.

WOMEN'S RESERVES CALLED TO COLORS

In Garden and Kitchen They Must Back Up the Fighters in the Front Line.

In this great crisis of the world, it is necessary that women be mobilized. The battle front has moved to the rear, and the women of the United States must back up the fighters in the front line. The women of the United States must back up the fighters in the front line.

The women of the United States must back up the fighters in the front line. The women of the United States must back up the fighters in the front line. The women of the United States must back up the fighters in the front line.

This year's campaign is a struggle of reserve against reserve; America is the last reserve; in overwhelming numbers our forces are being moved to the front; and behind the lines the women are asked to bring up their reserves of energy and intelligence for the practical carrying out of their orders.

The food situation must steadily degenerate as long as the war lasts. It is therefore of prime importance to add every item to the total production. No woman with a foot of growing space at her disposal can afford to be merely a destroyer of ration, a dependent on the food supplies of a starving world. The Allied nations look to America for food. One object of the Food Administration is to bring as much food as possible under control and distribute these supplies where they are most needed.

America is today the careful guardian of the needs of the world. As the Food Administration anxiously counts the dwindling bushels of wheat it asks of every woman, "To what extent can you make your home independent of this common store?"

How many potatoes and how many beans will you need? How many jars of tomatoes and how many of peaches? Sit down with pencil and paper and make a definite plan, remembering that every woman's real war work is to make the home pantry as independent as possible of the world supply. Take stock of what you use during the winter and of what you have left on hand. Make an estimate of your grocery orders for the winter and plan this year to reduce these to a minimum by substituting your own products. For instance, for sugar, substitute sorghum syrup or honey if they are available; for candy, home-made crystallized fruits and fruit pastes; for raisins, dried cherries; for tropical fruits, native fruits; for Brazil nuts, walnuts and hickory nuts; for canned meats, home canned meats; for shipped breadstuffs, neighborhood meals and flours.

To sum it all up—stop eating freight. Transportation is the greatest problem of the war and shipping space the most precious thing in all the world. Above all, don't eat from the pantry of the hungry Allies. With a little planning and much hard work you can fill your pantry with home-grown foods.

Now is the hour of our testing. Let us make it the hour of our victory—victory over ourselves; victory over the enemy of freedom.—Home Care, 1918.

CHATEAU DES HAIES NOW CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL.

One of the Most Complete Establishments of Its Kind in France, With Jolly Playrooms and Toys to Amuse Patients.

Up in the mountains, where the snow falls early and lies deep, 30 miles from Lyons, is the little French village of Les Haies—a sorry little village, with its massive stone church standing sentinel over two long rows of trim, blue-gray plaster cottages. And a mile farther on is the Chateau des Haies, where your Red Cross has established a home for 200 sick children.

Mangini built the chateau. Mangini was the man who built the railroad along the Rhine and many other railroads in France. And thirty odd years ago he built this castle up in the mountains for his country home. But soon after his two children died. Then he died, and when his widow followed him she left the chateau to the city of Lyons to be used as a hospital for children.

The War's Workload.

Then came the war. A little corner of the village was turned into a hospital for the French army. And when the Germans came in 1914, they took over the chateau. They made it into a hospital for the German army. They made it into a hospital for the German army. They made it into a hospital for the German army.

To care for these children was the task your Red Cross at once assumed. Working with the French authorities, the Red Cross secured permission to make use of the old and almost forgotten Chateau des Haies up there in the mountains. For years the castle had been closed. No effort had ever been made to fit it up as a hospital. Your Red Cross had to begin at the very beginning.

Rooms Big and Jolly.

But what a wonderful task it has accomplished! The Chateau des Haies, transformed into a children's hospital and rest home in furious haste under the terrible pressure of war needs, with little time to think twice and no time to retrieve errors, is not only one of the most complete establishments of its kind; it is one of the best children's hospitals in all France. The two rooms where the arriving children are isolated for a few days are big, jolly rooms—just what is needed to efface from the little ones' minds the memories of those iron days behind the German lines. The big play room is strewn with rocking horses and wonderful smile-enticing parrots and other toys carved by the wounded poilus.

And so you stray from room to room, and everywhere you find new evidences of this watchful care. And then you reach the bathrooms. This chateau was built by a man of wealth. Its plumbing was excellent, and yet it has been stripped out and replaced with little, low wash basins and little shower baths that the children can use more comfortably.

That is how your Red Cross thinks and cares for France's children.

HER WEIGHT IN GOLD.

An Aviator's Letter Tells What a Red Cross Nurse Is Worth.

"As for the American Red Cross—well, I could never in a thousand years express my appreciation and admiration of those American women. I worship them. I guess all the fellows do. The first day I came into camp—and my morale was right low; I'll tell you about it some time—well, I went into the American Red Cross, and there, standing behind a nice clean counter, was a little round faced Red Crossie. She was just beaming on every one. Imagine! I never came as near making a fool of myself in my life. I felt like throwing my arms around her and weeping for joy. As it was, I managed to sit up my chocolate a bit—only a drop or two that I couldn't help rolling off my cheek. "If I ever paint an angel it will look just exactly like that little Red Crossie. They would be worth their weight in gold if they did nothing but just be here."

The Sheely Brothers Barn Wind Storm Loss

This barn, a new one, was one of the largest, the best built, the most up-to-date barn in Southern Pennsylvania, yet it did not withstand the wind storm, and the loss is thousands of dollars.

The loss is partly covered by cyclone insurance listed at Martin Winter's office.

The cost of this kind of insurance on a farm barn is $3.75 per $1000 insurance for three years (the rate on 10 acres being lower).

The question therefore for every property owner is: Does it pay to rise the loss of $1000 for three long years to save $3.75?

It requires less than five minutes to destroy a barn, and there are a good many five minute periods in three years.

Baldness Conquered

RECIPE MAILED FREE

A veteran business man, who was almost completely bald and had tried numerous tonics, lotions, shampoos, etc., without benefit, came across, while on a journey, an Indians' recipe by which he grew a complete crop of lustrous, luxuriant hair that he now possesses.

Others—men and women—have reported remarkable hair growth by the same method. Whoever wishes the recipe may obtain it free by writing to John Hart Brittain, J.A.-222, Station F, New York, N. Y. Or obtain a box of the ointment, Kotalin, made according to the perfected recipe, at the drug store, ready for use.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

In a vast number of cases, when hair falls out, the roots are not dead, but remain imbedded in the scalp, alive, like seeds or bulbs, needing only fertility. The usual alkaline shampoos, alcoholized hair tonics, etc., are of no avail in such cases. The Indians' ointment nourishes the hair and stimulates the growth.

It not only feeds the scalp and induces hair growth in every case possible, but cures dandruff, itching scalp, and children's hair. If you are bald, or losing hair, or have dandruff, you should try Kotalin. It is a pleasure to observe the starting of your hair and its steady increase until a prolific growth supersedes thin hair or baldness. Cut out this notice; show to others who want beautiful hair. The recipe is free. This is genuine.

Scenes Witnessed at French Seaport Base Show Losses That Humanity Has Sustained.

To linger about a seaport base in France is to have more vividly brought home to one the awful carnage of this struggle.
